November 2000

Commander's Comments

Kids to school at 7, doctor's appointment at 9, grocery shopping, drop off the youngest at day care, clean the house, pick up youngest at day care, call insurance company, pick up kids at school, etc.....

Sound familiar? The list above probably only represents a small fraction of the activities that were going on back here in Hawaii while we were at JRTC. It sure is good to be back in paradise and more importantly to be back amongst friends and family again. We had a very successful rotation at the Joint Readiness Training Center in Louisiana and I want to thank all of the Soldiers for their hard work and more importantly, I want to thank all of the family members for your support and understanding. The training value of going to the JRTC for the unit is unmatched by anything we can do in Hawaii. It is a tremendous help when our family members understand that deployment is one of the necessary evils of the Army and do your best to make it a month (doing all of the above and then some!) without your spouses around. Thanks for being an integral part of the team!

With our successful completion of JRTC, we now shift our focus to the Holiday season. I can't believe that it is already November and Thanksgiving is upon us. While we never seem to "slow down" much in B/214th, the training schedule during the next couple of months is not as packed as it has been prior to our recent deployment. This should be an excellent opportunity for us all to recharge our batteries and spend some time with family and loved ones. The first couple of weeks of December are an ideal time to put in for leave to spend some time during the holidays with your families. After the holidays our pace will pick up again with the Lightning Thrust Warrior training exercise in late January, so take advantage of this time now and get your leave forms in ASAP!

Some highlights to mark on your calendar include the Battalion Dinner Cruise on November 17th on the Ali'i Kai and the Battalion Christmas party at the Hangar on December 16th. If you have any suggestions or want to help out in any capacity with the Christmas party, please contact us, we'd love to have your help!

It's great to be back home, have a very Happy Thanksgiving!

UPTIGHT!

KEVIN C. INGLIN
